Special to The Washington Herald.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Washington dropped both games in the double-header here this afternoon, the first by a score of 3 to 2 and the second by a score of 3 to 2.

Case Patten was sent after the first game, and was hit hard and often. This, with some wild throwing to bases, gave the home team an easy victory.

Boston got one run in the second inning on hits by Wagner and Knight and Criger's out. It added three more in the fourth on successive hits by Knight, Criger, and Young, an out, and a hit by Parent.

In the fifth Ungaugh led off with a single, and after Ferris had been retired Wagner got a three-bagger. The latter scored on a long fly to left.

The home team's seventh run was made in the sixth, on a base on balls and hits by Congalton and Ungaugh. Wagner was made in the eighth, on singles by Barrett, Parent, and Ungaugh.

Washington did not score until the sixth, when it got one man over the plate. O'Brien led off with a single, but was thrown out trying to steal. Altizer singled to center and stole second, from where he scored on Warner's single.

The Nationals' other run came in the eighth. After O'Brien had fled to Parent, Altizer bunted safely and stole second. Jones batted for Smith, and fled to Parent. Warner singled to right, and scored Altizer.

The features were the batting of Ganley and Ungaugh and the fielding of Ganley. Score:

Loss Second by One Run.

There was little doing in the run line in the second game. Washington got a cheap run in the first inning after two men were out. The wind made Parent misjudge Delehanty's fly, and it carried over his head. At that Delehanty would have been out at the plate had Shaw held the perfect throw made by Barrett, who relayed the ball to the plate.

Boston tied up the game in the second. Ferris got his base on balls and went to second on Wagner's sacrifice, and the run came in when Shaw hit a single to right.

Boston took the lead in the eighth. Wagner doubled and was safe at third on a fielder's choice, O'Brien muffing Altizer's throw on Knight's bunt. Shaw got in another single, and Wagner scored. Barrett and Parent followed with hits, scoring Knight.

It looked as if Chase was going to blow up in the ninth. O'Brien and Altizer started in on him with singles. Smith was out on a bunt, but the runners advanced. Warner was thrown out at first, O'Brien scoring. Jones went to bat for Falkenberg, and was thrown out at first.

The Nationals play another double-header here to-morrow. Score:

ATHLETICS GET BOTH.

Highlanders Allow Five Runs in the Fifth, Which Decides Game.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—The first game today went to the Athletics by the score of 6 to 4. Smiling Al Orth was very effective until the fifth, when the Athletics got after him and scored five runs, with as many hits. Seybold drove in two of the five runs with a three-bagger to deep center. Both pitchers were steady and the fielding on both sides was sharp. Scores:

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

Altizer caught three hits in the second game. Milan did not get a single hit in the two games.

The defeat of the Naps puts White Sox in third place. Cantillon is tickled over the showing of his team—Boston Herald.

Detroit finds the pace set by the Athletics something fierce. One of Delehanty's hits in the second game went for four bases.

Altizer scored Washington's only run in the opening contest. Cincinnati has thirty-seven men on its rolls for next season and more to come.

O'Loughlin made his first appearance of the season in Philadelphia Labor Day. Joy, the Saa Francisco pitching accession of the Boston Nationals, is an Honolulan.

Umpire Henry has made an application for a position on the staff of the National League.

Ganley got four hits out of five trips to the pan in the first game. Off Cy Young, too.

"Nick" Young thinks the present outfit about the best that ever represented Washington.

Clymer went bingleless the first game, but connected for two in the second contest.

The injury to Barbeau is a severe blow to the prospects of Toledo in the American Association race.

The batting percentage of young Doyle, of the Nationals, of New York, is going down with a vengeance.

Jones played short in Smith's place in the last half of the first game. He accepted his own chance.

Outfielder Tom Rafferty, the Boston boy, lost his eleven. DeLoach, Mathewson, Barry, and base stealing.

Larry McLean, of the Reds, has caught in twenty-one straight games and says he can go twenty-one more.

Columbus is again on top in the American Association and landed a double-bagger from Toledo Tuesday.

Nine thousand five hundred and fifteen fans turned out to see the Nationals play a double-header.

"Bill" Donovan and Ed Kilian, are in a fair way to win the extra bonus of $500 offered them to get a certain number of games.

"This said that John Anderson clears $5,000 in real estate. He does not need any baseball in his. The game is not banishing him.

Both "Rudy" Donovan and Ed Kilian, are pitching with him. It takes command to land games these days, and bases on balls are costly.

Cleveland will play no post-season games if it fails to land the pennant. Larry says he will have none of it. A series with Pittsburgh was proposed, but the idea was dropped with him.

Over 25,000 people saw the Athletics play Labor Day. Truly Connie Mack and his associates are piling up the dough. The White Elephant indeed. "What a happy knock was that epithet."

There'll soon be enough football players on the New York Nationals to form an eleven. DeLoach, Mathewson, Curtis, and a new catcher named James, who is to join the team soon, all chased the piskin at college.

Manager Billy Murray is now on the outs with his old friends on the Jersey City club for allowing Pitcher Lake to go to the Highlanders. Lake is a wonder, and Murray was anxious to land him with the Phillies.

Fred Clarke, who is out of the game with a bad knee, says that he is not out for a bench warmer, and will never be one. "When I can't play ball any longer, I will retire to Kansas and follow the 'four' method of the capacity manager. I find it the hardest job I ever undertook to sit on the bench without taking an active part in the game. None of that for me."

ALOYSIUS TAKES LEAD

Defeat of Bethany Places the Team on Top.

LOSERS' RALLY FALLS SHORT

Sunday School Leaguers Make Game Effort to Win in the Last Round, but Fail by Narrow Margin—Trinity Will Play the Victors in Second Game of Double-header To-day.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Aloysius	3	0	1.000
Trinity	2	0	1.000
Bethany	0	1	.000

To-day's games—Bethany vs. Trinity and Aloysius, National Park. First game, 2 o'clock.

Aloysius jumped into the lead and put Bethany out of the running in the sixth game of the amateur baseball championship of the District, at National City Leaguers yesterday, when the Capital City Leaguers suppressed the Sunday School boys in a seven-inning contest, by 6 to 5.

The Aloysius outfit knew that it would be no cinch to corral the large end of the score from the Bethany aggregation, and they were hard at it every minute from the time that the boys started until Umpire Betts called the fray on account of darkness at the conclusion of the seventh inning. Not for a minute did the Blue and White team let up, and it was well for them that they did not, for they peeped every one of the tallies that they counted to win the game.

Of the four games that Bethany has played all have been lost, three of them by the margin of but one run, as was the case yesterday, when Tucker's team went in in the last session with the score 6 to 2 against it, and by clean hitting, chased over three runs, just one short of tying the score.

It was a noble effort, a true Bethanian one, and had the Church Leaguers taken advantage of all the chances they had to score during the game, that final rally would have won the contest for them, for in not a single inning did they fail to leave one or more men on the bases, only to have the much-needed inning fail to appear.

The Sunday School Leaguers had a total of nine players left on the bases, and in the third and fifth rounds, with men on second and third, and only one out, they failed ignominiously to bring them in, in the first instance hitting into a double play, and on the later occasion the next two batters being easy infield outs.

Bethany outfit, however, bingle, but all but one of the North Capitol street team's hits were well timed and figured in the result, while Bethany allowed five or over half, of its swats to go for naught.

"Lefty" Wooden served them up for the first street team, and he served them in good style, fanning five and issuing two passes, but the little fellow was found wanting in the third.

Barnhart and Hessler Star. Barnhart, Barnhart, Harry Zanelli, and Wooden led with the bat, each getting two hits apiece, while Barnhart and Hessler copped the fielding honors, each of the rival outlanders making spectacular catches and returns to the plate which cut off runs.

Aloysius started off with a rush, showing three runs over in the opening round. Hoffman dropped a Texas leaguer back of second, and Mattingly beat out a bunt. Handiboe and Fenton fanned, Hoffman and Mattingly working; a double steal as Fenton swung at his last strike. Davis then smashed a keen one to Mat, who threw rather high, first, Ruiz allowing the ball to get through him, Hoffman and Mattingly romping home, and Davis going to second, from whence he scored on Hessler's single to center. Hessler was caught flinching to center. Hessler was put away, but Barnhart drew a pass and started for second when Harry Zanelli whacked one to Fenton at third. Fenton fielded the ball cleanly and made a perfect throw to second, which Gallagher just reached in time, but the toss got away from him, and Barnhart continued on to third. Zanelli started for second and dodged around on the base line long enough for Barnhart to make a dash for home, which he reached by inches.

Aloysius scores again. Aloysius made it four in the third, when Mattingly poked a Texas leaguer over short center, went to second on Handiboe's hit, stole third, and scored on Davis fly to Barnhart.

Bethany scored its second run in the fourth on Handiboe's error, two stolen bases and Wooden's neat single to center. No more scoring was done until the last inning, the seventh. Baggett whaled a double along the left field foul line, and Fumigan beat out a bunt, and kept going after reacher first. Zanelli and Ruiz tried to run the twirler down between first and second, but they were started promptly by Zanelli's throw to the pan being just a trifle late. Fumigan pliffed second and tallied on Fenton's single.

In its half of the seventh with darkness fast falling, and the score 6 to 2 against H. Bethany, the rally, which all but tied up the game. Barnhart singled to left, Zanelli popped to Baggett, and Wood played a bingle in almost the same place as Barnhart. Then Ruiz showed up with a corking double to deep left, perfect throw to second, which Gallagher, Shedd, singled, scoring Ruiz, but was forced at second on Le Mat's biff to Gallagher. Wooden ended the agony by grounding out, Fenton to Davis.

Play Double-header To-day. Because of the scarcity of available dates, a double-header will be played at National Park to-day between Bethany and Trinity.

The Bethany-Trinity game is the first of the season, and will be started promptly at 2 o'clock. Donaldson and O'Neill will work for the money handlers, while Manager Tucker will send either Newgent or Barnhart in to pitch for Bethany, with Wood to do the receiving.

The second game of the double bill will be one of the most important of the series, for it is between the two teams that are fighting for first place in the series, Aloysius and Trinity, neither of which has lost a game.

The North Capitol street outfit at present has the age on the West End aggregation by reason of its defeat of Bethany yesterday, so Trinity will strive all the harder to down the leaders.

The rivalry between the two teams is intense, Trinity being composed mostly of St. Stephen's players, which team was beaten for first place in the Capital City League by Aloysius. There has been the hardest kind of a battle when the two teams have met before, several fights having been narrowly averted, and in this instance, when there is so much at stake, the nines are liable to resort to almost any kind of tactics to win.

Both teams have large followings, which will undoubtedly be on hand to see the struggle, especially as Gallagher, the star pitcher of the Aloysius club, will be pitted against Jimmie Kerr, the mainstay of the West Enders, in the box. Scores:
